From nature to the cup.

Valverde is an amazing blend between ancient herbal traditions and advanced research on new production technologies.

It was created in 1985 in Bellino, in It was created in 1985 in Bellino - 1500 m above sea level in high Val Varaita - an unspoiled setting, a pearl of Alpine architecture, where man and nature find the right balance respecting each other. Dedicated to the cultivation, drying and processing organic medicinal herbs, Valverde is currently based in Melle, middle Val Varaita. Particularly known for its "mountain herbal teas", Valverde - cooperative agricultural company - works following a unique logic, from the cultivation to the finished product packed in filters.

From seed to teabags.

Valverbe takes care of the entire production cycle from sowing to finished product.

Valverbe herbs, organic, OGM-free and freshly harvested, are dried using an innovative “open-cell” system, that takes away the water but keeps the cellular membrane intact, as well as the active ingredients, the aroma and the flavor: a true revolution compared with the traditional system, with amazing results! Herbs dried with this method, once they are rehydrated, swell and regain the turgor of fresh plants, thus creating the optimal conditions for an effective extraction process when preparing the herbal tea.

FROM SEED TO FINISHED PRODUCT

Valverbe operates according to a logic from seed to finished product, guaranteeing finished product, guaranteeing constant control over all stages of the production production cycle, including the more delicate ones of harvesting the product in the right balsamic time and of drying.

OPEN CELL DRYING

The herbs are dried with an innovative and technological plant CFT that allows them to be dehydrated in an ‘open cell’ manner. This process, since it does not rupture the cell membrane, preserves intact in the dried plant, allowing its properties intact in the dry plant, allowing, with rehydration, the restoration of the turgidity of the fresh plant, which favours the exchange between solvent and solute to the benefit of the quality of the infusion.

ORGANIC COTTON THREAD

A focus on the consumer, which reflects a philosophy of life, but also a coherent response to the fact that cotton cultivations are among those most treated with treated with pesticides and the harmfulness increases during of dressing, where, as is well known, highly toxic heavy mineral oils are used.

MOUNTAIN PRODUCT

In the Alpine valleys adjacent to Monviso, the Valverbe Cooperative cultivates, dries and packages directly its own filter herbal teas.

BACTERIAL LOAD CONTROL

The reduction of the bacterial load in our mixtures takes place through an innovative dry sanitisation technique. The product is superheated in a tunnel to 85 °C, eliminating the bacterial charge consistently without damaging the product.

ENERGY SOURCES

Valverbe opted for a 120 KwP photovoltaic plant, so that the energy needed for drying the herbs and packaging does not contribute to increased pollution: organic and environmentally friendly herbal teas.

NO GLUE OR STAPLES

The filter is free of staples.
